

#18 Study in Thuringia

Tuesday 5 November 2024 10:30 (1h 30m)

“Study in Thuringia” is an innovative, modern digital learning platform developed to facilitate the integration of prospective international students into the academic culture of Thuringian universities. This free platform provides essential information about Thuringia as a study destination and the various study programmes and universities on offer. It also provides a range of online courses that students can register to and prepare themselves for both the cultural and organisational challenges that they may face. These courses feature detailed modules covering visa applications, language skills, housing, university enrolment processes, and the local support services available. By offering these resources, “Study in Thuringia” aims to attract international students to Thuringia, prepare them for academic and cultural adaptation, and support their transition into the regional labour market. By highlighting the platform’s content, the showcase will demonstrate how it can better equip students with the necessary tools for their academic journey in Germany and enhance the overall international student experience in Thuringia.

Primary author: FOSTER, Sophie (Bauhaus Universität Weimar)

Presenter: FOSTER, Sophie (Bauhaus Universität Weimar)

Session Classification: Showcases im Erdgeschoss

Track Classification: Lernplattformen und digitale Tools